

ACADEMIC PUBLISHING SERVICES

Located in the University Supply Store at the Ferguson Center, APS is your easy way to customize your own course materials.

OUR MISSION:

- The Academic Publishing Service is here to serve our University of Alabama faculty and students by making custom publishing convenient, inexpensive, and legal material. APS is the only academic custom publisher in Tuscaloosa that carries all course materials, so you're assured of having everything a student needs for your course in one location.
- Support the bookstore that supports UA faculty, staff, and students by funding scholarships and other campus programs.

WHAT WE OFFER:

- The lowest production prices and most reliable service.
- Full copyright clearance and fee payment so your course packs are 100% legal. Permission from the copyright holder is required for the reproduction of intellectual property (even if for educational use).
- Digital scanning and mastering for cleaning, pagination and electronic storage.
- Course packs on the shelves with other course materials.
- Digital options are available and may be your sole format or complement your printed course pack which is protected by Digital Rights Management (DRM) software.
- Free desk copies for you and your teaching assistants.
- More than 20 years of experience in custom publishing for the University of Alabama faculty.

WE PUBLISH:

- Class lecture notes
- Lab manuals
- Course packs (anthologies)
- Out-of-print books and more

WHAT WE NEED FROM YOU:

- A complete bibliography which includes all original source information. (If using copyrighted material, allow 2-4 weeks for copyright clearance).
- Course name, number and section.
- Copy of the material to be published.
