■ Online Syllabus Management (OSM)

Use the OSM system to create, edit, and publish course syllabi. The OSM system can be found via the OIRA website's "Helpful Links" or by visiting syllabi.ua.edu.

The screenshot shows a 'Helpful Links' section with a grid of links. The links are: Net Price Calculator, Enrollment at a Glance, Information Requests, Online Syllabus Management, Accreditation, Performance Measures, QEP Learning In Action, Organizational Chart, and Other Resources. At the bottom, there is a logo for 'Good Data, Good Decisions' and copyright information for The University of Alabama.

Upon arriving at the OSM system, enter through the "Manage" area.

The screenshot shows the OSM system homepage with a green background and a path leading through trees. The main navigation options are 'Search' (Browse and view the existing syllabi) and 'Manage' (Create and edit syllabi (for instructors)). There is also an 'About the Online Syllabus Management Project' link at the bottom.

■ Student Opinions of Instruction (SOI)

Find the SOI website from the OIRA homepage.

Student Opinions

The image contains a logo on the left with the letters 'S O I' in large red font, followed by 'YOUR OPINIONS MATTER!' in smaller red font. To the right is a photograph of a large, curved lecture hall filled with students. At the bottom of the image is a dark red banner with the text 'STUDENT OPINIONS OF INSTRUCTION' in white, spaced-out capital letters.

SOI online course evaluation surveys are available to students near the end of each semester, usually during the last two weeks of classes. Students receive an invitation email from Provost Kevin Whitaker with instructions at the beginning of each data collection cycle. Periodic reminders from Dr. Whitaker are sent until a student has completed all their surveys. Instructors can monitor response rates in all of their participating classes through the SOI website. Class reports are usually available to instructors several days after the due date for grades submission.

Or directly visit oira.ua.edu/soi for the course evaluation survey application.
