FOR IT ADMINISTRATORS:

To verify that users are accessing Academic Passes with an authorized email domain, the New York Times sends users a verification email when they claim a pass for the first time. To avoid having our email blocked by resident spam software, we recommend that your IT department “whitelist” the nytimes.com domain or better yet, “whitelist” these IP addresses our emails come from:

FAQ

Why use the NYTimes.com Pass to read The New York Times online?

The New York Times requires a paid subscription for full access to its website, NYTimes.com, and to the NYT mobile apps at NYTimes.com/mobile. Current registered visitors not connected to a pass may only read up to 10 free articles per month. The NYTimes.com Pass gives unlimited access to all content on the site, except for a limited number of articles you can view from 1923 to 1980.

I already have a Times digital subscription, which gives me unlimited access to NYTimes.com.

What should I do?

If you have an existing digital subscription, you are not eligible to activate an NYTimes.com Pass. Please contact edu@nytimes.com to discuss your options.

What are the restrictions?

You need to have a college email address as the username when activating the NYTimes.com Pass, and such email will need to be verified by a confirmation email sent from The New York Times. Note: access to articles from 1923 to 1980 is limited to five articles per 24-hours for the duration of your Pass.

Can I access The Times from off-campus?

Yes, as long as you have previously activated your NYTimes.com Pass using your college email as your username at NYTimes.com/pass.

Can I access The Times from my mobile device?

All NYTimes.com Passes provide full access to NYT apps; visit nytimes.com/mobile to download. Pass holders can also access NYTimes.com and INYT.com on any device (computer, smartphone, or tablet) with a browser. Mobile apps are supported by most devices.

Why am I asked to log in on some occasions and not others?

This may be because your browser may clear its web cache/history if it is set to do so. In such cases you will need to log back into NYTimes.com, but you can still use your NYTimes.com Pass.
